When the night descends and shadows disappear I long for all the things I get when you are near The lonely one is missing you, the lonely is me Only the lonely have nothing left to fear
And when the morning comes, I call you on the phone Your voice is music to my ears The lonely one is missing you, the lonely is me Only the lonely have nothing left to fear
When I see your face, I'm dancing on rain When I see your eyes, I'm shooting at stars...tonight The lonely one is missing you, the lonely is me Only the lonely have nothing left to fear
